

Sen. Jones, Other Illinois Officials Visit GE Atomic Products Laboratory

Three Illinois public officials last week visited the General Electric Atomic Products Laboratory in San Jose, Cal., and the company's testing facilities at nearby Vallecitos to inspect the design of Commonwealth Edison Company's Dresden Nuclear Power Station.

The group making the trip included George R. Perrine, chairman, and William Vicars, member, of the Illinois Commerce Commission; State Senator Glen O. Jones of Raleigh (third from left), chairman of the State of Illinois Atomic Power Investigating Commission, appointed last year by Governor William G. Stratton; Morgan F. Murphy, vice-president of Commonwealth Edison Company; and J. J. Poer, Edison engineer, who is project manager for Dresden.

General Electric is building the 180,000-kilowatt Dresden plant for Commonwealth Edison and the co-sponsoring Nuclear Power Group for a contract price of $45,000,000. The station, located on the Illinois waterway 50 miles southwest of Chicago, is scheduled for completion in 1960.

The Illinois public officials made the trip to get a progress report and inspect test facilities, including a pilot plant installation. The group is particularly interested in the operating and safety features to be incorporated in the Dresden plant.

Ike Plans Two TV Talks on Budget

President Says He Anticipates Eventual Resignation of Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told a news conference today that he may make two television appearances soon in support of his budget, which is encountering trouble in Congress.

The President told reporters he had worked for a long time on an address to the people, but found there were so many subjects to be covered that he doubted one speech would accomplish his purpose.

He used his news conference to make another vigorous stand in behalf of his budget, asserting that truly big cuts could not be made until this country was certain that the foreign situation had eased very greatly.

Other news conference highlights:

—He anticipates the eventual resignation of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey but said that Humphrey had not yet submitted a formal resignation.

Agrees With Humphrey

—He said there were no differences between Humphrey and him on financial policy. Quite firmly Eisenhower said that the monetary policy of this country is strictly his own.

—He disclosed that a letter in which Humphrey spoke of the possibility of a major depression under certain financial conditions in the government was prepared jointly by the secretary and the President.

—He thoroughly agreed with Humphrey that there was no longer any reason for the government to permit corporations the right of rapid tax write-offs.

—Eisenhower thought the Russian compromise aerial inspection plan submitted at the current London disarmament talks would require earnest study, but did demonstrate that more honest, hard work was being done by the current conference than in previous meetings. If a fool-proof international inspection system were agreed on, the U. S. probably would stop production of nuclear weapons.

—Eisenhower said he was concerned that the American people should know exactly what a federal budget means and what is involved in cutting it.

—He said the pilot at no time flew lower than 3,000 feet over the city. Normally, the skies over the metropolitan area are off limits to jet flights except under certain conditions.

But soon after the Navy jet landed, Air Force bases, newspapers, and the police received hundreds of calls complaining of several flights over a wide area.

The night duty officer at Roslyn Air Force Base said radar screens had picked up blips representing "some type of aircraft flying in a pattern over New York" but the search plane was sent up as a result of hundreds of calls from people in the area.

He said it was possible "the thing just grew" and that one jet plane — perhaps the Navy Cutlass on the routine photographic mission — could have been blown up into several planes.

Economy Axe Hits School Construction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Education and Labor Committee today bowed to the economy bloc in Congress and slashed the proposed school construction program to $1,500,000,000.

The cut-back came on a 23-3 vote in a secret session as the committee all but completed its action on the bill.

Originally the committee had voted for a two billion dollar program—400 million dollars a year for the next five years.

But the action was tentative and today the group cut back the program to 300 million a year for the next five years—or $1,500,000,000 in all.

This action could be changed again before the final committee vote, expected Thursday.

Rep. Samuel K. McConnell Jr. (Pa.), ranking Republican on the committee, said he proposed the cut because of the economy drive in Congress and to give the school program a better chance at passage.

He said the committee felt that a smaller program would have a better chance "with the feeling the way it is on the floor."

Manhattan Residents Frightened by Mystery Jets Flying Low Over Area

NEW YORK (AP) — Several unidentified jet aircraft streaked through the skies low over Manhattan for nearly three hours Tuesday night, frightening thousands of residents.

An Air Force radar-equipped Lockheed Starfire F94C sent up on emergency orders to track down the mystery planes was unable to find them.

From all over the city, beginning about 10 p. m. E.D.T. came reports from residents who said jet planes "buzzed" over their homes, rattling windows and causing television set interference.

A spokesman for the Navy's Floyd Bennett Field said an F74 Cutlass twin-jet had flown over New York on a photographic mission for about an hour, beginning at 10 p. m.

He said the pilot at no time flew

Dorothy Hanning To Join Municipal Opera Chorus

Miss Dorothy Jane Hanning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanning of 306 West Raymond street, Harrisburg, will be a member of the singing chorus of the Municipal Opera in St. Louis, Mo., during the season to open soon.

Miss Hanning is being encouraged by her teachers at the University of Illinois who are cooperating with her by allowing her to take some of her examinations early in order that she may begin rehearsals in St. Louis on May 27. This is a wonderful opportunity for a young music student, and Dorothy Jane is quite happy about it.

Mrs. Hanning, on her visit to the university last week end, received this good news and spent a particularly interesting day in Allerton Hall and the surrounding grounds, a gift to the university of James Allerton.

Pope-Hardin Dist. Wins State Soil Contest

The Pope-Hardin Soil Conservation District has been declared the winner of the state-wide soil conservation contest sponsored by Keystone Steel and Wire Company of Peoria and today plans were being completed to photograph soil conservation practices in the two counties.

The film, in sound and color, will be made available to interested groups throughout the United States, giving Pope-Hardin Soil Conservation District fine publicity in all parts of the nation.

Ed Kirwan, photographer and promotion man for Keystone, came into the area Wednesday and will be working in the district for two or three weeks.

First he was to talk with officers and members of the Pope-Hardin Soil Conservation District — Paul Trovillion, Brownfield, chairman; Dodd Gibson, Elizabethtown, vice chairman; Mrs. Abner Field, Brownfield, secretary-treasurer; Ben Taylor, Elizabethtown and Darce Smith, Golconda, members.

Writing the script will be next on the schedule. The Kirwan will visit many farms in the two county area comprising the district and photograph the various activities of the district as it pertains to soil conservation.

When the film is completed a copy will be presented to the district and other copies made available to schools, Future Farmers of America organization and other civic and service clubs interested.

This is the sixth consecutive year Keystone Steel and Wire Company has sponsored the contest and 67 counties participated in 1956.

Judging was by a State Board of Judges, picked from soil conservation people throughout the state.

Previous winners: Henderson 1951, Warren 1952, Effingham 1953, Bond 1954, Mason 1955 and Pope-Hardin 1956.

BAHREIN, Persian Gulf (AP) — One American airman was killed when four U. S. Air Force T33 jet trainers crashed in the Saudi Arabian desert Tuesday, Bahrain Airport authorities reported today.

The four planes were on a flight from Fuerstentumbruck, Germany, to Dharan. Four other T33 trainers in the flight of eight landed safely.

The U. S. Air Force identified the dead pilot as Capt. Roger W. Jellison, Bangor, Maine.

Furor in Gary

Parents Ask Ouster of Teacher Accused of Paddling 11 Students

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Parents called for the ouster of a sixth grade teacher who was accused by a grammar school principal of paddling 11 students who failed a vocabulary test graded by their classmates.

The principal of Edison School, Clarence E. Swingley, said some of the paddled students "actually had passed the test," and added that some parents told him their children were "black and blue."

Swingley said the teacher, Gordon D. Schipper, admitted paddling each of the 11 children last Friday six times while the remainder of the class watched.

"Schipper said he then gave the paddle to some 'passing' students and they each took a few swings at the 'failures,'" Swingley added.

Schipper, a science teacher, previously had been "cautioned" about administering corporal punishment to pupils, Swingley said, but admitted he had "made a mistake" in the paddling.

Schipper, who continued to teach amid the furor, was still on the job although the Gary Board of Education planned to discuss the incident at its next meeting.

Schipper said he hoped the mass spanking would be a "test case" for the entire school. The action was due, he said, to a combination of incidents over a long period.

"Paddling is not illegal according to state law," said Dr. Alden Blankenship, Gary superintendent of schools. "However, it is the policy of Gary schools to administer corporal punishment only as a last resort."

The father of one of the spanked pupils came to Schipper's defense, however.

"Teachers should take more action to keep discipline in school and parents should back them up," he said. "If my boy gets paddled in school again, I told him he could expect another one when he gets home."

Senate Lid Stays On

Beck Again Invokes Fifth Amendment at Senate Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate lid stayed on today.

Teamster Union President Dave Beck refused even to tell investigators whether he had threatened to blow it off.

The President of the nation's biggest union invoked the Fifth Amendment when the Senate Labor Rackets Committee asked if he had told reporters at Galveston, Tex., recently that he would have "blown the lid right off the Senate" if he had testified freely in his first appearance before the committee March 26-27.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D. Ark.) opened Beck's return engagement by charging the Teamster president with "a breach of moral trust" in handling union funds.

Beck's new attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, immediately asked the committee to defer Beck's appearance until the union president is tried on income tax evasion charges.

Cites Committee Vacancy

Williams said if the committee insisted on questioning Beck, he would advise Beck to take the Fifth Amendment on all questions relating to his finances.

Williams also challenged the authority of the committee to hold hearings while it has a vacancy in its membership. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), who was a member, died last Thursday and had not been replaced by the time the hearing began.

Williams argued that the Senate resolution setting up the special committee called for it to be bipartisan, with four Democrats and four Republicans.

House Approves Bills to Aid Financially Hard Pressed Downstate Bus Companies

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Bills to aid financially hard pressed bus companies in downstate cities moved to the Senate today with House approval.

The two bills passed in the House Tuesday would exempt the bus firms from the five cents a gallon state tax on motor fuel and would set a flat $2 fee for registration of each bus, instead of the present fees based on weight.

The bills are designed to apply only to local bus firms, and not inter-city buses.

It was estimated bus firms throughout the state would save about $450,000 a year if exempted from the gas tax.

As an example of the saving the bus companies would make through the flat $2 registration fee, the present weight fees range from $90 to $135 for each bus in Springfield.

Rep. H. B. Innen (R-Quincy) sponsor of the bills, said they were vital to continued bus service in many downstate communities. He said some bus companies have already abandoned service

Co-Operation of Public for Clean-up Urged by Mayor

Mayor Claud Gibbons today called for the co-operation of all the Harrisburg public in a clean-up day set for next Tuesday.

"We want to put over this clean-up," the mayor stated. "We did not have one last year and the city needs one very much."

He called for volunteer trucks and truck drivers for the work next Tuesday, to augment the city trucks that will be pressed into clean-up duty.

Persons who will help, he stated, should contact him or William "Cookie" Owen, city street superintendent, whose phone number is 1413-R.

He also called upon the public to have their debris collected and placed in boxes near the edge of the street, where those on the trucks can see the boxes easily.

Sinatra Sues For $2.6 Million For Look Article

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra today sought $2,600,000 damages against Cowles Magazines Inc. and writer Bill Davidson because of an article in the current issue of Look magazine that reported the singer called Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn a "creep."

Sinatra charged in a Federal Court libel suit that Look stooped to scandal magazine tactics in the first article of a biographical series titled, "The Life Story of Frank Sinatra: Talent, Tantrums and Torments."

"It was a lewd, lascivious and scurrilous article containing innuendos and references of the same nature and type as contained in what are popularly known as scandal magazines," Sinatra said. "I had never even met or spoken to Davidson."

The part of the article that appeared to have infuriated Sinatra into taking legal action was an anecdote in which, the complaint said, the spindly singer was quoted as vehemently telling Rayburn at last year's Democratic convention to "take the hand off the suit, creep." The article said the stiff rebuke came when Rayburn asked Sinatra to sing "The Yellow Rose of Texas."

Airman Delivers Own Son in Germany

Airman L. C. Violey Fryou of Gulfport attended the birth after he discovered it was too late to get his wife Joy, to a hospital.

Seek Savings Insurance

The 225 million dollars represents an increase of 31 million over what the state will spend in school aid in the current budget period.

But because of growing enrollments, Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh (R-Champaign), School Problems Commission chairman, says the figure will fall about 20 million dollars short of the amount needed to maintain school aid at the present level which guarantees a spending level of $200 per pupil per year.

Another bill was introduced to require savings and loan associations to become insured under federal guarantee plans. The bill is an outgrowth of the recent Mensik case in Chicago in which State Auditor Elbert S. Smith closed three savings institutions which were not insured.

Some depositors in the institutions said they had been led to believe the institutions did have their deposits federally insured.

One of Many Items of Business At Busy Session

Tuesday, May 14,
Designated
As Clean-Up Day

A petition bearing 61 names that asked that action to remove Commissioner Don Williams from the city council be dropped was read before the council at its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon and placed on file.

That was one of a large number of items on the agenda at the Monday session. Other actions included:

1. At the suggestion of Mayor Claud Gibbons, next Tuesday, May 14, was designated as Harrisburg Cleanup Day, and all persons are asked to co-operate in cleaning up premises so that trucks can haul away the debris.

2. The council gave final passage to an ordinance regulating taxicabs in the city. The ordinance is carried in detail as a legal item in today's Daily Register.

3. The council voted to change the parking lot meters to give persons who park there 90 minutes instead of one hour for each nickel deposited.

4. The council heard Tom Davidson of the Harrisburg Junior Chamber of Commerce tell of action taken by his organization designed to get modern mercury vapor lights for uptown Harrisburg.

5. Henry C. Dempsey told the council it could get for the city, through the Civil Defense program, a $4,467.85 emergency truck for $1,475.

6. Bids were opened to buy new parking meters with the Dunham Co. and the Magee-Hale Co. submitting bids. Action was deferred until the next meeting.

7. The petition regarding Commissioner Williams was headed as follows:

"We believe the present Harrisburg City Council, as it is now set up, has done a good job. We are sorry to see any change in this efficient setup of duly elected members."

"We know that Don Williams has his business in Harrisburg and has the same interest for the best welfare of Harrisburg that he had when elected. We also know that if he goes off the city council, the remaining men will have a difficult time agreeing on a man for his replacement."

"We hereby petition Claud Gibbons and Morris Darnell to drop legal proceedings to oust Don Williams from the Harrisburg City Council."

On Monday Mayor Gibbons and Commissioner Darnell filed in circuit court quo warranto proceedings designed to remove Williams from office on the grounds he has moved outside the city limits since his election to office.

Senator McCarthy

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, one of the most disputed figures in 20th Century American politics, may have put an indelible mark upon our history in that brief span of years when his star flashed bright.

Gone from the scene at an early 47, he unquestionably will be the subject of major controversy among the historians as he was among his contemporaries at the height of his power.

Power is the right word. From 1950, when a timely anti-Communist talk catapulted him suddenly to center stage as a fighter against American Reds, until 1954, when the Senate condemned his tactics, he stood as one of the most powerful senators seen in America.

In that period he ripped and flailed at federal agencies, declaring his determination to root out communism in government. He charged that not only preceding Democratic presidents but Mr.
Truman and then the senator's fellow Republican, President Eisenhower, were "soft" in assailing the Reds.

His rough-and-tumble tactics, his bristling energy won him hosts of friends in the nation who appeared deeply troubled then over the menace of communism within our borders.

These same maneuvers, however, brought down on his head a ceaseless barrage of criticism—undoubtedly from many true Communists but also from countless others who believed the senator's attacks were destroying the reputations of innocent men and actually helping communism by creating confusion and generating a kind of mental civil war in America.

In 1953, Mr. Eisenhower's first year in office and McCarthy's first as chairman of a Senate committee investigating communism, the senator reached the zenith of his power. Running the group with what amounted at times to one-man rule, he pounded his theme without rest.

He learned at this time that he had enemies not only within the country but far and wide around the globe.

But by 1954, though no one realized it at first, this comet-like figure was starting a downward spin.
Challenged by the administration in the celebrated Army-McCarthy hearings, he struggled through months of bitter fighting under the glare of television.

The consensus was that he lost both stature and momentum in that battle.

In November that year the Senate studied his tactics as a senator and ended by roundly condemning him. From then on, he slowly sank from public view. His power crumbled, and he became almost a forgotten man.

But no one who looks back on the years 1950-54 would dare to hazard that he will not be remembered for the swash he cut through American affairs in that troubled time.

Benson's Shy Farm Plan Is Mere Veto of Current One

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has now made what is probably the shyest, most subtle, soft-shoe approach to a brand new farm program on record.

There may be method in his manner. He isn't sticking his neck out on any new farm plan, probably because he doesn't want to have his neck cut off—say at the ankles.

In this, he apparently wants to escape the fate of his predecessor, Democratic Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan.

It will be recalled that in 1949 Brannan put forward what became known as the Brannan Plan for righting what was wrong with U. S. agriculture.

President Truman urged its passage in his 1950 State of the Union message. But the Brannan Plan immediately became first-priority duck on a rock for every Republican to heave dornicks at.

The GOP succeeded in knocking off the Brannan Plan. They also ruined Brannan's later political ambitions.

ANYWAY, BENSON DOESN'T WANT anything like that to happen to him. So what he has done is write a long letter to Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

In great oversimplification it says that present farm programs and policies aren't working and they cost too much.

This could be the greatest understatement of the year.

The secretary includes both Democratic and Republican farm policies in his condemnation. He says the Democratic price support and acreage allotment programs do not cut farm production enough and do not raise farm income. He admits that the GOP surplus disposal and soil bank programs are the most expensive farm programs ever written—and that they don't do all they were supposed to do, either.

Benson says the correction of this situation should be taken up as an economic problem and not as a political issue. He offers to consult with Congress on new policies.

THIS IS APPARENTLY an effort to get a bipartisan or non-partisan program. It would take the curse off any purely Democratic or Republican farm programs which would be subject to political smearing and defeat.

For specific recommendations to correct what Benson says is wrong, he only "hints at them," as he says. What he hints at is that the acreage reserve soil bank should be allowed to expire in 1959 and that price supports should be made much more flexible.

The implication is that the farm economy should be much freer of controls which make farm prices too high and farm income too low.

The theory seems to be that lower price supports with fewer controls would be a better means to curtail surplus production.

Benson says this new approach has been discussed with President Eisenhower and the cabinet "in a general way." This is taken to mean that the Administration has no very definite program of its own, although the issue was discussed for a full day with the secretary of Agriculture's Advisory Council.

THE SECRETARY does not rule out the possibility of a new Eisenhower special farm message to Congress later on. But he says the Administration's responsibility is only "to point out the difficulties of the laws it must administer and to counsel with Congress regarding their solution." Nothing is said about the responsibility of the Administration to provide leadership.

Benson says there is no great hurry about correcting what's wrong with the farm program. He says the question of timing is up to Congress.

His hope is that a new program can be worked out early next year, but he would not object if a new program were worked out this year.

Though Benson apparently wants to minimize political considerations in working out new farm policy, they enter the picture unavoidably. A nonpartisan farm program might have a better chance of being worked out this year than next. For the congressional elections of 1958 would certainly mean that politics would dominate any new farm laws written by Congress in that year.

At present rates, 55 per cent of patients with uterine cancer are being saved, according to the American Cancer Society.

An Old Observation

ALBANY, N. Y. — (AP) — An Albany newspaper of 100 years ago printed the following: "The French woman talks a great deal more than she thinks. The English woman thinks more than she talks. But the American woman does more thinking and more talking than the other two combined."

STRINGIN' ALONG—Tell Martin Beck of Pittsburgh, Pa., to go fly a kite and he'll probably take you up on it. Back in 1938 he started saving string. Today he has a ball 8½ feet around and weighing 650 pounds. He is shown with grandchildren who get kick out of a granddad's hobby.

Couple Raised 44 Children on Farm

EBERNEZER, Miss. — (AP) —
Henry Helm, 84, and his wife, Maggie, 82, reared 44 children on the income from a 160-acre farm.

They had 16 children of their own and adopted the others. They now have 69 grandchildren, 74 great-grandchildren and 20 great-great-grandchildren.

One of their sons had 12 children whom they adopted when the son was accidentally killed. They took in unrelated orphans from time to time.

"We never had a moment's trouble from any of them," Helm said. "We raised everything at home."

They still have one young grandchild living with them.

Miss Blackard was graduated from the University of Illinois in the class of 1955 and is now employed by the Stix, Baer and Fuller department store of St. Louis. Mr. Chetta is in the U. Chances One in 62,500 Tornado Will Hit An Area After Warning Broadcast

SPRINGFIELD—When the Weather Bureau broadcasts a tornado warning for your area, chances are only about one in 62,500 that the big blow will arrive where you happen to be.

Those are the odds quoted by Lars C. Christensen, chief of the Weather Bureau at Springfield, which keeps tabs on what the weather is up to in about 45 central and southern Illinois counties.

But whatever the odds, Christensen said, it's well to know what to expect when a "forecast" is out.

When weather stations broadcast tornado warnings, the warning area normally covers about 50,000 square miles. That's because tornadoes may develop over a broad front when cool, dry air from the west or northwest moves over warm moist surface air.

Chances of a tornado taking shape in that 50,000-square-mile area, Christensen said, add up to about 40 out of 100. The average tornado has a path of about 16 miles and less than one-fourth mile wide.

Warning Spreads Quickly
So there's a fair chance of a

Harrisburg Chapter Z, P.E.O., Represented at Convention

Mrs. Pat Sullivan, delegate, Mrs. Charles E. Combe and Mrs. Robert L. Metcalf of Harrisburg attended the P.E.O. convention held in the Sheraton-Jefferson hotel in St. Louis, Mo., on May 1, 2, and 3.

Mrs. Combe, a past state chairman of the organization, is an honored guest of all conventions and Mrs. Metcalf was named chairman of the State Grouping committee, a standing committee of the organization, at this convention. Chapter Z is honored at having one of its members chosen for this chairmanship.

Mrs. Sullivan, delegate representing Chapter Z, was pleased and proud of the many fine speakers who made the convention outstanding in its program. The theme for the entire meeting was taken from Tennyson's poem in which he wrote, "How dull it is to pause, to make an end, to rust unburnished; not to shine in use." Speakers used the "To Shine in Use" theme in all of the departments of living, as religion and government.

Rev. Paul S. Krebs of the Alton 12th Street Presbyterian church represented the clergy at the convention banquet, and Miss Lillian Schlagenhaus, attorney of Quincy, senator of the Illinois General Assembly, and a member of Chapter E.C., P.E.O. of Quincy, gave her interpretation of the convention theme as applied to government in an outstanding address.

Among the many distinguished officers and visitors to the convention, Mrs. Irene S. VanBrunt, corresponding secretary to the Supreme Chapter, was received with enthusiasm and honored by the group.

Miss Flo Bourland is convalescing in the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Allen of Pankeyville. Miss Bourland has recently returned from a 28-day residence at the Herrin hospital. Mrs. Allen expresses gratitude for the many inquiries about her sister's condition and is happy to report satisfactory progress.

JACKSON DRUGS

PRESCRIPTIONS
1 SOUTH MAIN HARRISBURG, ILLINOIS

LEGISLATIVE REPORT
59th DISTRICT
By Representative
GORDON E. KERR

The General Assembly is now in the heavy part of its work. Sessions with committee hearings last until seven o'clock. Most members are receiving so much mail it is impossible to answer all the letters. The sessions are now four days, but will soon go to five.

The highway speed limit bill seems certain of passage, however attempts will be made to amend it to 70 miles per hour. It has passed the Senate.

The bill to increase the State Police force by 600 more men is strongly opposed. It is probable that it will be held until the speed limit bill is voted on.

A minimum wage act has been passed by the House. It sets a limit of 75 cents per hour. It applies to an employer of four persons or more, and carries some exemptions. There were very few votes against it.

The first bill to make daylight saving time a must in Illinois took a heavy beating in the House. It only received 29 favorable votes and it takes 89 for passage. There is one more bill of that type in the Senate and its chance of passage is poor.

Two of the most talked about bills at present are labor bills. One is the bill known as "the right to work bill." This bill is bitterly fought by the unions. The opinion of several legislators is that it is certain of defeat.

The other is known as the "anti racket picketing bill." This bill while opposed by labor has a chance of passage. This bill prevents the picketing of a business until after a vote of the employees to decide if they wish to join a union. Its aim is to prevent coercion on employees and employers who have no disagreement. The vote on this one will be close.

Bills to improve the assessment laws in our state have been introduced. Certainly they need improvement. If a way is found to assess every person fairly, no local tax increase would be necessary.

Four bills have passed the House that will make six long weekend holidays. The days that are involved are Lincoln and Washington birthdays, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Columbus Day and Veterans Day. Some legislators believe this is a sign of a four day work week in the future. This bill only passed by a small margin. Some think it will lead to more highway deaths. It will be confusing because in Illinois we will observe these days on Monday while in other states they will be on the present date, about the same confusion as daylight saving time.

Our H. B. 126 that would cut the small truck license fee in half, reduce the passenger car license and put a tax on out of state trucks was defeated by a small margin. It is estimated that this bill would bring in a little more revenue than our present law. As it is the out of state trucks are using our highways but are not paying any tax. In other states they have to buy their gasoline or pay a mileage tax. We feel that the small truck license fee is much too high, also that cars should be licensed on weight rather than horsepower. Someday we hope to get that written into the law.

Legislators are receiving a large amount of letters in regard to school legislation. Most school people insist that the appropriation for schools be increased. Any substantial increase must be followed by an increase in the sales tax or a state income tax. The Teachers Union has endorsed the income tax for school purposes.

The Korean Bonus bill will be advanced in the House this week. It has passed the Senate.

Our bill (all legislators from this district) to help the poor counties has passed the committee.

Senate Passes Bill Permitting Death for Rape

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Senate today passed with only one vote to spare and sent to the House a measure to permit the death penalty for rape.

The bill passed, 31-25, after its principal sponsor, Sen. Robert E. Cherry (D-Chicago), told the Senate that "victims of rape in many, many instances suffer a fate worse than death."

Opponents of the bill warned, however, that the measure might result in a greater likelihood that rapists would murder their victims to eliminate "the only evidence against him."

The bill would permit the courts to impose the death penalty when the assault was accompanied by extreme violence or great bodily injury.

Sen. Lillian E. Schlagenhauf (R-Quincy) said she believed no punishment was too great for a rapist. "But I'd rather have a raped woman alive... than a raped woman dead." She opposed the measure.

The House, meanwhile, passed a bill to crack down on shoplifting, which sponsors of the measure said was costing Illinois merchants $50 million dollars a year.

The bill would permit merchants or their employees to detain for a "reasonable" time any person they believe has "probable cause" to believe has stolen merchandise.

Purpose of the bill is to protect merchants against false arrest suits.

Unwed Mother Faces Charges for Abandoning Baby

PEORIA, Ill. (U.P.) — Involuntary manslaughter charges have been filed against a young unwed mother who admitted abandoning her newborn baby by rolling her down a hill and into a ravine.

Verna Scarbrough, 23, an occupational therapy instructor at Peoria State Hospital, told police the baby girl was born to her in the bathroom of an apartment she shared with two other girls early on the morning of April 25.

She said she slept for a few hours after the birth, then wrapped the baby in a towel and placed it in an overnight bag.

After teaching her morning class, Miss Scarbrough said she walked to a wooded area near the hospital, took the baby from the bag and rolled her down a hill into a ravine.

The baby's body was found last Thursday and Miss Scarbrough was arrested Monday after returning from a weekend trip.

She told authorities she believed the baby was born dead, but a coroner's report indicated the child was alive at birth and died of exposure and malnutrition.

Lie Tests Clear Three Teenagers in Death Of Christopher Man

BENTON, Ill. (U.P.) — Franklin County Sheriff Paul Collins says lie tests have cleared three teenagers who have been questioned in connection with the death of Charles Durward Penrod, 55, Christopher.

The boys, held since last Saturday, were released today.

Collins said an investigation is continuing into the death of Penrod. Penrod's body was found in the Big Muddy River west of West Frankfort April 19.

An autopsy report said he apparently died from a blow on the back of the head.

Petition to Council Asks Withdrawal of Action

organization seeking to get the eight-hour period on the city parking lot reduced from 40 cents for eight hours to 25 cents for the same amount of time.

"Our people won't use the parking lot when they can park in front of the stores for the same price," Price said. "I have no right to tell the members they cannot park uptown. Last night the union went on record 100 per cent to use the parking lots if they can use it for 25 cents for eight hours time. We need the parking meters on the streets for the shoppers."

Commissioner Williams said that Price's remarks were his sentiments exactly, that a couple of meetings ago there was a two to two tie vote on this same proposition, and suggested it be brought up again for a vote.

Gibbons Opposes Change

Dick Parker of the Harrisburg Merchants association spoke, saying the city should make it as convenient as possible for customers, particularly those from out of town, and that the ideal situation would be for local people to use the lots. He suggested that motorists get more for their money on the lots than by using the street meters, to encourage use of the lot.

Mayor Gibbons said he was opposed to making a change, saying it would be discrimination. He said he felt that the parking lot was a better place to park than at some of the outlying street meters.

Williams made a motion that the meters be changed to give 90 minutes for each five cents deposited and it carried 4 to 1. Mayor Gibbons being the dissenting vote and Commissioners Darnell, Charles Hine and Sneed Jordan joining Williams in approval.

Street Light Proposal
Regarding the new type lights, Davenport said Westinghouse had sent two engineers here to make a survey and they had worked out a plan of street lighting for Harrisburg with mercury vapor lights suspended from brackets on 30-foot steel poles. The plan called for 81 lights, but this could be reduced, he stated. The cost of each light, not installed, would be about $395 each, and more details would be needed until installation costs could be determined.

The council members seemed receptive to a proposition to install such lights but want to discuss the program with other companies as well as Westinghouse.

Dempsey, in speaking of the all-emergency truck, for which the federal government would pay half the cost, has a four-wheel drive and which he stated, would have to be housed in a city building. He stated he had requested that one be brought here next Tuesday afternoon for inspection.

12 Middle East Nations Favor Eisenhower Doctrine; Five Oppose

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Twelve Middle Eastern countries generally favor American efforts to bolster the Middle East against Communism under the Eisenhower Doctrine, a survey disclosed today.

Five nations in the troubled region either are withholding a decision on the American aid program or are against it.

The doctrine, in the form of a resolution passed by Congress March 9 and signed by President Eisenhower, states U. S. readiness to use armed force to help any Mideast nation attacked by a Communist-dominated country and requesting American help. It also authorizes U. S. economic and arms aid to bolster Mideast nations against Red encroachment.

The United Press survey is based on results of Ambassador James P. Richards' 59-day tour of the Middle East to explain the Eisenhower doctrine and line up support for it.

Richards was scheduled to return here this afternoon to report to Eisenhower and congressional committees on his mission.

Richards, a Democrat and former chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, was authorized to make commitments on economic and military aid projects of up to 200 million dollars in the Middle East under terms of the doctrine.

Nations visited by Richards that are endorsing new American efforts to stem Communism were Lebanon, Libya, Turkey, Iraq, Pakistan, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Ethiopia, Greece, Tunisia, Israel, and Morocco. Israel's formal approval is expected shortly.

Of these nations only Greece, Saudi Arabia and Israel will not receive American aid dollars from the Eisenhower Doctrine fund. The three nations will continue to receive U. S. aid, however, from regular foreign aid funds.

Afghanistan "Neutral"

Afghanistan gave Richards a mixed reception. It declared its "neutrality" in the East-West struggle, thus withholding any direct pledges to resist Communism. But it agreed to accept further American "economic and cultural aid" without "any political conditions."

Yemen and Sudan withheld approval. The Sudanese government said it "welcomed the clarification" of the doctrine and agreed to give it "further study."

Egypt and Syria did not invite Richards and his mission, while Jordan is a special case. Administration officials believe existence of the doctrine stiffened King Hussein's will to resist leftist attacks on his regime. Hussein himself suggested it would not be a good idea for Richards to visit his country.

But the young monarch accepted 30 million dollars in American aid from regular foreign aid funds.

Probated Will Reveals Death of Gangster Johnny Torrio

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Johnny Torrio, the man who taught gangster Al Capone a lot of what he knew, died quietly three weeks ago that his death went unnoticed until Tuesday, when his will was filed for probate.

Torrio, once the ruler of Chicago bootleggers, died at the age of 75 after suffering a heart attack in a barber shop on April 16. He was buried April 19.

After his release from a Leavenworth prison in 1941, Torrio settled in Brooklyn with his wife Anna, to whom he left his entire $200,000 estate. He spent 30 months in prison on an income tax evasion conviction.

Fiscal Reform a Must: Stratton

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.) — Fiscal reform in Illinois is a Republican campaign pledge "that must be carried out," Gov. William G. Stratton said today.

Speaking at a lunch meeting of the Illinois Federation of Republican Women, Stratton said he could not overemphasize "the importance of accomplishing this modernization of our government."

"The program to abolish the elected offices of treasurer and auditor, to set up a new department of financial institutions, a new department of audits, to revamp the finance department, is our pledge to the people of Illinois," Stratton said.

Singing Convention Held Sunday at McKinley Baptist

The semi-annual Saline county singing convention was held Sunday at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church.

Congregational songs were led by Earl Hicks, Tommy Grant and Raymond Allen. Mrs. Robert Keltner accompanied the singing at the organ and Miss Bonnie Billman, at the piano.

Prayer was offered by the Rev. J. D. McCarty, the Knight family sang two selections and Donnie Billman sang a solo.

The Missionary quartet, the sextette and trio from McKinley church and a group from the church choir gave selections.

Melvin Hicks sang accompanied by Cecil Abney at the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Stiff sang a duet, Cecil Abney played a piano solo and Rev. McCarty led a prayer, followed by the receiving of the offering.

A male quartet of the church sang, accompanied by Mrs. Doyle Hedger. There was a solo by Treva Kay Partain, a quartet from the South America church and portions of three selections led by A. A. Moore with Mrs. Keltner accompanying at the organ and Ada Abney at the piano.

B. Rogers sang a solo and the Highlighter's trio, accompanied by Cecil Abney, was followed by a piano solo in acknowledgment of a request, played by Cecil Abney, and a solo by Doyle Hedger.

The meeting was closed with a song led by Owen Bird and the closing prayer by the president, Tommy Grant.

Dressen Shows No Bitterness Over Being Replaced as Senators' Manager

DETROIT (U.P.) — Charley Dressen showed no bitterness as he watched his former lieutenant, Cookie Lavagetto, run his ball club—the Washington Senators. Cookie didn't have any better luck than Dressen and the Nats lost, 5-3, to the Detroit Tigers Tuesday.

"It sure looks different from up here," Dressen said as he viewed Briggs Stadium from the third deck press box.

Dressen talked quietly but showed a trace of mist in his eyes. His face is ruddy from years of standing on dugout steps — usually watching a more potent ball club than the runchless Senators.

"I still don't know whether I'll take the front office job," Dressen said only a few hours after President Calvin Griffith had fired him as manager in an attempt to shake the club out of its eight-game losing streak.

"I thought we'd win more ball games this year," Charley said. But it wasn't the chipper Charley who watched his Brooklyn Dodgers tie for the National League pennant in 1952, and win it outright in 1953 and 1954.

Dressen got into the major league managerial ranks with the Cincinnati Reds in 1934. He took the last place Reds up to fifth place when he was relieved after the 1937 season. Two years later, the team Chuck built won the first of its two straight pennants. Then he went to the Dodgers, Lavagetto's team, as a coach.

Dressen went to the Yankees as a coach for Bucky Harris in 1947 and 1948. Then he went to Oakland of the Pacific Coast League and won a pennant with the Oaks in 1950 before returning as Dodgers manager.

Chuck was replaced at Brooklyn by Walt Alston when he held out for a two-year contract. He went back to the Oaks and won the 1954 playoffs before taking the job with the Senators.

Program to Swap Surplus for Foreign Aid Supplies Breaks Down

WASHINGTON — Efforts to swap part of the government's eight-billion-dollar pile of surplus farm crops for foreign aid supplies have come to an unpublishing halt.

The program has been handled by the Agriculture Department.

Some department officials blame the breakdown on the buying policies of the International Cooperation Administration which supervises the whole foreign aid program.

ICA spokesmen admit their policies have squeezed down the barter program. But they insist the policies—allowing foreign governments to handle contracting for most aid supplies—are in line with a congressional order to bolster free enterprise abroad.

ICA officials also maintain that barter deals just are not practical in most foreign aid programs today. Some officials in the Agriculture Department disagree completely.

Which group is right, Agriculture Department records show that in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955, the department bartered $22,400,000 worth of surplus crops for materials used in the foreign aid program. In the fiscal year ending last June 30, they dwindled to $8,600,000.

Case for Barter

In the current fiscal year the records show no barter deals at all.

The government has more than $8,430,000,000 invested in surplus crops piled up under farm price support programs. These commodities cost the taxpayer millions of dollars yearly in storage charges. In a 1954 act, Congress ordered the administration to barter the surpluses for foreign aid supplies wherever possible.

One official anonymous because he did not want to get into an inter-agency row, put the case for barter this way:

"It costs us $67,200 to store a single ship cargo of wheat for a year. Doesn't it make sense to take it out of storage and swap it for the fertilizer, textiles and machinery we're giving away under the foreign aid program?"

"If we don't barter, ICA spends the foreign aid money anyway, and the taxpayer is still paying storage charges on the wheat."

Officials in both ICA and the Agriculture Department agree barter deals were easier several years ago when much foreign aid purchasing was done through a third agency, the General Services Administration.

Barter Becomes Impractical

In those days, an overseas manufacturer of fertilizer, invited to bid on an order for Korea, might offer to exchange the fertilizer for surplus wheat. The fertilizer manufacturer would sell the wheat through an agent.

Today, when ICA approves a grant to buy wire for Bolivia, trucks for Pakistan, or tractors for a Southeast Asia country, the foreign government involved is given a "purchase authorization."

The government receiving aid breaks the authorization down into "sub-authorizations." These are given to individual private importers who go on to buy the products authorized by ICA, which pays the bill.

With the order broken down into many relatively small pieces, ICA officials maintain, barter becomes impractical in most cases.

In most barter deals, the supplier of foreign aid goods must hire an agent to dispose of the farm commodity he takes in trade and the agent's commission has to be reflected in the supplier's bid.

Agriculture Department barter specialists, reluctant to comment

Scholarship in Architecture Available To Area Student at U. I.

A $2,500 scholarship in the College of Architecture at the University of Illinois is being made available to some southern Illinois student.

The scholarship is known as the Southern Illinois Lathing and Plastering Industry scholarship and will carry a stipend of $2,500 to be used at the rate of $500 per year for five years of tuition, fees, equipment, text, and other expenses.

Inquiries should be made to Joseph D. Standish, 709 Spivey Building, East St. Louis, Ill. He is chairman of the Committee on Education, Southern Illinois chapter, American Institute of Architects, publicly, are known to feel that ICA's attitude ignores the potential savings to taxpayers in surplus storage charges and other losses suffered when crops are held for long periods.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

The artist takes a few little blobs of paint. He looks at a person, an object or a scene. He mixes the paints and spreads on the canvas the impression which is vivid in his mind. He may not see what others see. He may not portray his views as others would portray theirs. Yet he paints a picture which is viewed by the eyes of others.

This whole process depends on viewpoints, experiences, portrayals and interpretations of others. We carry our impressions from the color sequences on canvas as our own, yet we are inclined to argue over the varying interpretations of the printed word when the artist of language paints his pictures in a book or article.

There is a truth expressed in God's word which we can interpret with shades of difference. But the heart of God's word is in His love, His forgiveness, His salvation and His guidance of men. Let us accept these truths, and vary only the shading of our interpretations.

TV Star Jack Webb is Honorary Head of Be Kind to Animals Week

Television star and producer, Jack Webb, is honorary chairman of Be Kind to Animals Week being observed nationally May 5-11. Mr. Webb has demonstrated his keen interest in animals by his excellent "Noah's Ark" television series and various episodes of the "Dragnet" shows.

This 43rd annual observance of Be Kind to Animals Week focuses attention on the importance of animals to mankind and the necessity of constant consideration of their rights and needs.

Locally, the Harrisburg Humane society stresses care of animals. "In the summer," a local announcement said, "attention should be given to keeping animals free of fleas, ticks and lice, which can cause mange and disease as well as discomfort.

"Also, fresh, clean water should be provided and living quarters should be in shade.

"During winter months, animals need clean, dry beds free of drafts.

"The state law of Illinois," it continued, "requires that animals not confined be vaccinated against rabies and the local society has sponsored rabies clinics since its beginnings in 1948. Name-plates assure quick return of lost animals and these are available at the local shelter.

"People who have lost animals should look for them at the shelter without delay.

"Stray animals should be turned in at the shelter. The society calls attention to the fact that dumping of unwanted animals is against the law.

"Parents should be responsible for their animals' care and should not depend on their children. Only people willing to abide by animal laws and humane instructions are asked to apply for animals at the shelter."

Kerr Sponsors Strip Mining Commission Bill

State Senator Gordon E. Kerr of Brookport is one of three sponsors of a Strip Mining Commission bill in the General Assembly. The purpose of the bill is to make a study of the land that is left after the mining operation. It is the aim of the sponsors, Sen. Kerr says, with the cooperation of the mine owners to find some means to restore the land to productive use.

"As it now stands," Sen. Kerr states, "the land is a public hazard because of mosquitoes and other health hazards. The land is unproductive and has a very low assessed valuation. The commission will study the possibilities of making some of the land into recreational areas with lakes and parks. The bill was reported out with a recommendation to pass by the Conservation committee last week, despite strong opposition from the strip mining association."

Added Services Hike Food Costs, Officials Claim

WASHINGTON — Agriculture officials testified today that one reason middlemen get about 60 cents of every retail food dollar is that consumers now are buying "built-in maid services" with their food.

They told congressional investigators that these added services account for six billion dollars—25 per cent of the 25 billion dollar increase since 1940 in the nation's total bill for marketing food products.

Omer W. Herrmann, deputy administrator of marketing, gave the testimony before a House Agriculture subcommittee. The group is investigating food marketing costs in an effort to bring down the cost of living.

"These added services include more packaging, more and different processing, and more meals bought in restaurants, all of which adds to the labor, supplies, and other costs incurred in moving food from the farm to the consumer," Herrmann said.

The spread between prices received by farmers and those paid by consumers accounted for only 47 cents out of every food dollar in 1945, Herrmann reported. But he said the present spread of about 60 cents corresponds with the 1935-39 average.

Subcommittee Chairman Victor L. Anuso (D-N. Y.) said the only conclusion the subcommittee could draw is that "the farmer already

Reds Defeat Dodgers, 9-2, For Eighth Straight Win; Ted Williams Hitting .453

By United Press
That familiar fire engine color marked the "hottest" players in the majors today as the Cincinnati Redlegs ran their victory streak to eight games and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox sent his batting average soaring to .453.

The Redlegs looked like the bust of the season when they lost six straight games to the Milwaukee Braves. But now they're traveling like an Ohio River boat passing Cincinnati at floodtide and whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers Tuesday night, 9-2. The victory gave Hal Jeffcoat, a converted outfielder, his first pitching triumph.

Williams drove in three runs with a single and homer to give the Red Sox a 4-3 triumph over the White Sox. Ted, returning to action after being hit on the right arm Sunday at Cleveland, also drew three walks for a perfect night as he backed Tom Brewer's three-hit pitching. Herb Score, who led the majors in strikeouts the last two seasons, suffered what may prove a serious injury when he was struck on the right eye by a line drive in the first inning at Cleveland. But the Indians, with Bob Lemon replacing Score, battled back to edge the New York Yankees on two unearned runs, 2-1.

Power's Homer Beats Orioles
Vic Power hit his second homer of the night in the 10th inning to give the Kansas City Athletics their fourth straight victory, 3-2, over the Baltimore Orioles. In Tuesday's only day game, two-run homers by Frank House and Frank Bolling gave the Detroit Tigers a 5-3 victory and ruined Cookie Lavagetto's debut as manager of the Washington Senators.

In the other National League action, the Philadelphia Phillies routed Warren Spahn while giving Robin Roberts an 8-4 victory over the Braves: two-run singles by pinch-hitter Bob Speake and Dale Long in the 14th gave the Chicago Cubs a 10-8 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates, and Al Worthington's five scoreless relief innings helped the New York Giants down the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-5.

Art Schult collected three hits as the Redlegs battered Johnny Podres, Ed Roebuck and Ken Lehman to keep the major league season's longest winning streak alive.

Billy Klaus walked with two out in the ninth and Williams followed with his sixth 1957 homer to give Boston a 4-1 margin. It was the decisive blow as in the bottom of the inning, Larry Doby homered for the White Sox with Minnie Minoos on base.

Bauer Loses Pop Fly
The Indians beat the Yankees in the eighth when right fielder Hank Bauer lost Al Smith's pop fly and then threw wildly to second, permitting Gene Woodling to go to third and Smith to second. Tom Sturdivant walked Vic Wertz to fill the bases and, with two out, walked Rocky Colavito to force in Woodling with the winning run.

The Phillies chased Spahn after four innings by hammering him for seven hits and five runs. Roberts won his second after losing three.

The Cub-Pirate game lasted 4 hours and 17 minutes. It was the fourth consecutive time a night game went into extra innings at Forbes Field and Pittsburgh lost all of them. Long and Lee Walls, who were traded to the Cubs last week by the Pirates, were key figures in the Chicago triumph.

Catcher Ray Katt drove in three runs to provide the punch behind Worthington's relief pitching for the Giants against the Cardinals.

Giants Suffer More Casualties

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants, beset by injuries since the start of spring training today were confronted with two more casualties.

Center fielder Willie Mays, bothered by a persistent virus attack, was taken to a hospital Tuesday for a complete check-up, while right fielder Don Mueller was sidelined with a groin injury.

Mueller was expected to return to the lineup for today's game against the St. Louis Cardinals, but Mays probably will have to remain in the hospital at least until the weekend series against the Dodgers.

Score Receives Severe Eye Injury by Ball

CLEVELAND (AP) — Herb Score, the Cleveland Indians' "million dollar" pitcher, was "resting comfortably" in Lakeside hospital today with a severe eye injury that doctors fear may have damaged his sight.

The brilliant, 23-year-old southpaw was struck in the right eye by a line drive off the bat of Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees in the first inning of a game Tuesday night at Municipal Stadium. The blow also fractured Score's nose.

A 20-game winner with the Indians last season and the leading strikeout artist in the major leagues for the past two years, Score was reported in "satisfactory" condition early this morning.

"There has been severe hemorrhaging of the eye, but the exact nature of the injury will not be determined for a few days," said Dr. C. W. Thomas, a Cleveland eye specialist, who was called in to examine Score by Dr. Don Kelly, the Indians' team physician.

Kelly said Score "had some light perception" when he examined the tall left-hander and admitted, "that's encouraging."

After being struck, Score fell heavily to the ground with his hands clasped over his face. Blood streamed from his nose and mouth, but he did not lose consciousness. He was removed from the field on a stretcher and later was taken to the hospital.

Gardner Asks High School Principals to Certify Upper Half of Graduates

Principals of the four Saline county high schools have been asked by C. R. Gardner, county superintendent of schools, to certify to him the rankings of the upper halves of their graduating classes as soon as the school term is completed.

These rankings will be used to determine winners of normal school scholarships. Harrisburg high school will get four and Carrier Mills, Galatia and Eldorado high schools three each of these scholarships, good at Southern Illinois University or any of the state teachers colleges.

Pfc. James D. Beasley, whose wife, Nancy, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther G. Beasley, live at 15 West Walnut street, Carrier Mills, is a member of the Army Signal Depot in Saumur, France. Beasley, a mail clerk at the depot, entered the Army in January 1956 and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. The 23-year-old soldier was graduated from Carrier Mills high school in 1951.

Carrier Mills Drops 3-2 Tilt At Metropolis

Carrier Mills dropped a high school baseball game to Metropolis Tuesday night by the score of 3-2. The game, which went eight innings, was played at Metropolis.

Carrier Mills scored lone runs in the third and sixth innings and held a 2-0 lead when Metropolis came to bat in the seventh. The home town team rallied for two runs and sent the game into extra frames. In the last of the eighth Metropolis pushed across the winning score.

Jack Cowger pitched and Collins caught for Carrier Mills. Humma went the distance on the hill for the winners.

Scouts from both the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers were present to look at Roger Taylor, Metropolis standout. He came through with three hits in three times at bat.

RICHMOND, Calif.—Johnny Ortega, 117, Alameda, Calif., outpointed Alex Mejia, 118, Mexico City (10).

BATTERS BEWARE — Here's Sal Maglie's best mid-season form—and scowl. The Brooklyn right-hander expects to win 15 this year, picking up where he left off last year when only Don Larsen's perfect game stopped him from beating the Yankees twice in the World Series.
